
Choose Your Battle

Civil War Battles Online Resources

It is important to visit many sites regarding your particular battle. Seeing it from many perspectives will give you a better indication of what truly occurred. Remember, these sites are only starting points. You will probably want to locate more on your own, using the search engines provided later in this book.

Use the titles below to locate the Web sites for this page and the following page. Go to www.teachercreated.com/books/2658 for references to the specific sites.

Antietam

Site 1—AmericanCivilWar.com

Site 2—Shotgun's Home of the American Civil War—Antietam Map

Site 3—Shotgun's Home of the American Civil War

Site 4—National Parks Service—Antietam National Battlefield Map

Site 5—Washington State University—Antietam Map

Gettysburg

Site 6—AmericanCivilWar.com

Site 7—Shotgun's Home of the American Civil War—Gettysburg Map

Site 8—Shotgun's Home of the American Civil War—The Battle of Gettysburg official records and battle description

Site 9—UC Berkeley Earth Sciences and Map Library—Battle of Gettysburg Map

Chickamauga

Site 10—AmericanCivilWar.com

Site 11—Shotgun's Home of the American Civil War—Chickamauga Map

Site 12—Shotgun's Home of the American Civil War—Chickamauga Campaign official records and battle description

Site 13—Chickamauga National Military Park

Chancellorsville

Site 14—AmericanCivilWar.com

Site 15—Shotgun's Home of the American Civil War—Battle of Chancellorsville official records and battle description

Site 16—National Parks Service—Battle of Chancellorsville